To run multiple applications, each in its own console in Eclipse, first open a second console.

Then run the first application. Pick a console and 'pin' it. This console will only show the output for this application.

Run the second application. Its output will appear in the other console. You can also 'pin' it if needed.

Click here to see all currently running applications and to switch between them for a particular console.